Empowering Chloe: Finding Her Voice

"I have ideas but don't always feel comfortable saying them aloud."

Age: 20
Gender: Female
Work: University Student
Family: Born in the UK, currently live with roommates in Xi'an Jiaotong-Liverpool University
Location: Suzhou,Jiangsu,China
Character: Thoughtful, shy, introverted learner

Personality

Introvert — Extrovert
Thinking — Feeling
Sensing — Intuition
Judging — Perceiving

Thoughtful | Reserved | Creative | Reflective

Goals

- Speak up confidently and share ideas in class discussions.
- Develop stronger communication skills for future career success.
- Find a low-pressure, supportive space to express opinions freely.

Frustrations

- Gets anxious when speaking in front of peers or professors.
- Struggles to share thoughts when interrupted or judged.
- Feels that current classroom formats don't support quieter voices.

Bio

Chloe is a 20-year-old university student who enjoys learning and reflecting deeply on class topics. However, she often finds it hard to speak up during discussions due to shyness and fear of judgment. Over time, she has realized that not sharing limits her academic engagement and confidence. Using a safe, text-based platform gives her the chance to express her ideas without the pressure of public speaking, helping her grow both academically and personally.

Motivation

Needs

- A safe and low-pressure discussion environment
- Anonymous or text-based participation
- More time to organise thoughts
- Equal opportunities to contribute

Priorities

Supporting Dr. Lin: Building Inclusive Discussions

"Every student has something valuable to contribute; I just need to find the right way to help them share it."

Age: 42
Gender: Female
Work: University Tutor in Education and Pedagogy
Family: Married with one teenage child
Location: Melbourne, Australia
Character: Empathetic Educator and Reflective Facilitator

Personality

Empathetic | Collaborative | Reflective

Goals

- Develop classroom tools that make participation more equitable and visible.
- Empower quieter students to feel confident sharing their perspectives.
- Create an inclusive learning environment where every student feels valued.

Frustrations

- Class discussions often dominated by a few outspoken voices.
- Limited visibility into how often or how deeply each student contributes.
- Existing participation tools focus on quantity rather than quality of engagement.

Bio

Dr. Lin has spent over fifteen years teaching at university level, specializing in collaborative learning and educational psychology. Her passion lies in helping students discover their voices in seminar settings. Over the years, she has noticed that quieter or international students often struggle to be heard, prompting her to seek tools that can track participation more meaningfully. She sees technology as a way to visualize engagement patterns and ensure inclusion without bias, making her an ideal user for solutions that promote equitable classroom dialogue.
